NECESSARY INFORMATION ON ACCESSIBILITY

It is both an ethical and a legal obligation to provide blind and visually impaired people barrier-free access to scientific content, cf. e.g. Art. 14 BayBGG and § 1 - § 3 BayEGovG as well as “Inklusion an der FAU”.

I have prepared my manuscript in accordance with the Accessibility Guide and have provided alternative texts for all images in the manuscript.

I authorise FAU University Press to commission a service provider to prepare the PDF in a PAC3-compliant accessible format and agree to bear the corresponding costs (alternative texts must nevertheless be supplied).

BIT Advice, Information and Text Service Centre (in German: BIT Beratungs-, Informations- und Textservice-Zentrum) of the Bavarian Association for the Blind and Visually Impaired (BBSB, in German: Bayerischer Blinden- und Sehbehindertenbund e.V.)

Other service provider:

I currently have neither the time nor the financial resources to fulfil the above points and must refer to the exception according to the principle of proportionality (the creation of accessibility is disproportionate or impossible for financial, economic and administrative-organisational reasons).

SHIPPING TO THIRD PARTIES

In some cases, parts of the total print run should also be sent to third parties (e.g. supervisors). Postage costs per shipment would also be invoiced here.

Should parts of the print run be sent to third parties and, if so, how many copies to which shipping addresses:

FURTHER NOTES TO US

Here you can provide us with further information, e.g. if you want to commission an external printer, if certain picture credits have to be named, if the book has to be under a certain Creative Commons license, or if you deliberately use the old spelling (in which case we do not correct this during our reviews):
